

Dorby Shier: the. 23. day: 6: month: 77:

ho all ye rulers of Boston in new england fear and dread the lord god of host: who made heaven and earth the sea and all that therein is. and hath all power in his one hand and can doe what soever it please th him for hee hath all mens hearts in his hand and can turne them as please th him. for with him there is mercy that hee may be feared thir god bee ye mercifull turne as your heavenly father is mercifull unto you. in giving you things convenient for the out-ward man. and likewise for the inward. in giving unto every one of you a measure of his spirit & spirit to prophit with all for the lord our god hath fulfilled his promise and is in fulfilling it which hee spoke by the mouth of his prophit saying in the last daye I will sende out of my spirit upon all flesh and my sons and daughter the shall prophit: now is the scriptures fullfilled in this his mighty day where in thousands and ten thousands run witnesse the scriptures to be fullfilled in their inferns glory unto the lord for ever and it is the desire of my soule and the breathing of my spirit unto the lord for you all that ye all may come to witnesse the same every one in your one particular that god the most may see good and the guilt may be reduced in you all that god their may be no completing in your streets for want of yours for as many as be come sons to thos his giues spurs. from one that desires your soules everlasting
